

SUMMARY OF TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Irfan Nooruddin

Department of Political Science
The University of Michigan

TEACHING AWARDS

Outstanding Graduate Student Instructor (September 2000)

- Awarded each year by the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, to no more than 20 G.S.I.s across the University of Michigan.

Paul and Margaret Lurie Award for Teaching Excellence (April 2000)

- Awarded by Honors College, College of Literature, Science & Arts, University of Michigan, to 5 G.S.I.s each year.

John W. Kingdon Award for Outstanding Graduate Student Instructor (Fall 1999)

- Awarded by Department of Political Science, University of Michigan.

AS INSTRUCTOR

Introduction to Comparative Politics (Spring Term 2000)

Introduction to World Politics (Summer Term 2002)

The Political Economy of Development (Spring Terms 2001 and 2002)

The Politics of Resistance (Winter Term 2003 as First-Year Seminar)

Domestic Politics of International Conflict (Spring Term 2003)

AS GRADUATE STUDENT INSTRUCTOR (G.S.I.)

Introduction to Comparative Politics

- Taught for Ronald F. Inglehart (Fall 1997)

Introduction to World Politics

- Taught for Harold K. Jacobson (Winter 1998/1999/2000), Douglas Lemke (Fall 1998/1999/2000), and James D. Morrow (Winter 2002)

Comparative Politics of Advanced Industrial Democracies

- Graded for Robert J. Franzese, Jr (Fall 2001)

Political Economy

- Graded for Robert J. Franzese, Jr (Winter 2001)

OTHER TEACHING-RELATED EXPERIENCE

G.S.I. Training Workshop

- Organized and ran workshop as Graduate Student Mentor (Fall 2000)

University Taskforce on G.S.I. Training and Testing (May 2002 – September 2002)

- One of two graduate student representatives.